

Nevada Camera Club Monthly Competition

During the second general meeting held every month, except December, the Nevada Camera Club conducts a photographic competition which is open to all members. The competition alternates between prints and electronic images, starting in January of each year with an electronic image competition. Entries are grouped according to the class of the member (e.g., Intermediate), the category of the entry (e.g., Pictorial), and by the division (Color, Monochrome). Each entry is scored and evaluated by a panel of judges. Merit points are awarded to entrants based on the total score received by the entry. Based on the placement and scoring by the judges, the top scoring entries in each group are awarded ribbons. Members are asked to assist in conducting the competition and receive merit points for doing so.

Take a seat and enjoy and learn from the judging. Please do not comment upon entries or the evaluations offered by the judges during the competition.

Purpose

The purpose of holding monthly competitions is twofold:

Educational - Each competition entry is scored and verbal judging evaluations are given. These steps allow attending members to better understand how each entry has been evaluated and offers the opportunity for the judge(s) to provide constructive photographic evaluations that can be helpful to all viewers.

Motivational - Ribbons are awarded for the highest ranking entries in each category. Merit points are credited for participation and for entries that earn ribbons. Photographer of the Year (POY) points are credited based on the score earned for each entry. The Kaleidoscope of Blues award is based on blue ribbons earned in many categories.

To meet these requirements, competitions are divided by: Classification, Division, and Category, This allows judging criteria to be specific to each:

Classification - Classification skill levels include Junior (under 18 years of age), Beginner, Intermediate, Advanced, and Master.

Division Divisions relate to the medium used to present the image. Images are presented as Prints or Electronic Images.

Prints - are viewed by reflected light. Prints are divided into Monochrome and Color.

Monochrome Prints - The range of tones in the image is under the control of the photographer and is critical to the quality of the print.

Color Prints - Color creates separation within the image.

Electronic Images - are viewed on electronically charged elements. Electronic images are divided into Monochrome and Color.

Monochrome - The range of tones in the image is under the control of the photographer and is critical to the quality of the image.

Color - Color creates separation within the image.

Categories - Categories are subject based and wide in definition to allow the photographer latitude in expression.

NOTE: No specific category is defined by technique. Subject matter must be the defining parameter.

Photographers are encouraged to experiment with, and learn to use, a variety of techniques available for creating a quality image to present for competition, Techniques abound for use in the camera during exposure, in the darkroom or on the computer while processing the image, and post processing for enhancement and presentation. Care must be taken in the Documentary, Nature/Wildlife, and Photojournalism categories - Normal photographic processes may be used to enhance the image quality but must not be used to alter the truth of the photographic statement of these categories. This implies not altering the factual representation.

- While it is not the intent of the competition committee to censor in any way the content of submissions, photographers should be sensitive to the impact their images might have on others in attendance for judging. An advisory of adult or disturbing content may be included prior to an image's display should it be deemed necessary. If the likeness of a club member is included in an entry, that club member must have granted permission prior to the submission of the entry. Failure to do so may result in that image being disqualified from competition.

NCC Competition Classes

NCC competition classes are: Junior, Beginner, Intermediate, Advanced, and Master. Choose your class according to your age, experience and knowledge of photography. At any time, a member may choose to advance to a higher class. While in the Beginning or Intermediate classes, winning ten first place ribbons will automatically advance you to the next higher class. The Junior class is restricted to members who have not reached their 18th birthday.

Members may enter in the Master class on a voluntary basis. A Master classified member shall be defined as a photographer whose skill level of the craft has placed that person above the level of the advanced class. Members submitting entries in the Master class must do all the steps from conception to display. This includes:

- Processing of film (color or chromogenic film may be commercially processed)
- Making of prints (color and/or monochrome)
- Retouching, spotting, finishing, alterations and enhancements
- Mounting and matting of prints
- Scanning film and prints

Awarding of Ribbons for NCC Monthly Competitions

After the scoring phase, the top scoring entries in a Class/Category/Division are selected for ribbon placement.

The awarding of ribbons is based on both the total score and the placement of an entry. The total score is a technical appraisal of the entry without regard to other entries in the competition. The placement is an indication of how the entry compares with other entries submitted for that Class/Category/Division. The placement and score determine the actual ribbon awarded based on the following:

- Only one first, one second, and one third place ribbon can be awarded
- Placement determines the order that ribbons are awarded
- After considering placement, the highest ribbon that an entry can receive is determined by the total score:

Minimum Total Score	Highest Ribbon
24	First Place (Blue)
21	Second Place (Red)
18	Third Place (White)

Note that it is possible for an entry which is awarded a lower technical score to receive top placement. In this situation the top placing entry receives the ribbon based on its score. No entry will receive a higher place ribbon than that earned by the top placed entry, regardless of the score awarded to that entry.

Winners will be announced and ribbons will be awarded at the end of the meeting, time permitting.

Kaleidoscope of Blues Award

The purpose of this award is to stimulate members to expand their areas of photographic expertise by enticing them to enter all categories of competition with the reward of a plaque to acknowledge this achievement. A plaque will be awarded at the annual banquet after a member receives a blue ribbon in a minimum of ten NCC monthly competition categories. The plaque will have adequate spaces for all thirteen categories which can be filled in subsequent years.

27s Award

The purpose of this award is to recognize members who have 27 different entries receiving a score of 27 in the monthly competitions. Any images receiving a score of 27 beginning January of 2012 will count towards this award. A plaque will be presented at the annual banquet to acknowledge this achievement.

Ace Award

Ace award is given to an advanced or masters photographer who earns 30 blue ribbons beginning January 2012 in a category. A plaque will be presented at the annual banquet to acknowledge this achievement.

Best in Class

A Best in Class Award is presented to the member who has obtained the most merit points in monthly competitions during a calendar year. For Beginner and Intermediate, awards will be figured based upon the level at which the member most frequently competed. For example, if a member entered four competitions as a beginner and two as an intermediate, the member's points for all six competitions would be considered in ranking for the Beginner Best in Class. A single award is presented for Advanced/Master competitors. Additionally, a Master of Print award is presented based solely on prints entered in the Master class in monthly competitions. Plaques will be presented at the annual banquet to acknowledge these achievements.

Electronic Image Competition Rules

- Images may be horizontal, vertical or square.
Horizontal Image -- The width must not exceed 1920 pixels. If the height exceeds 1200 pixels, then the height should be resized to 1200 pixels or less and the width should be adjusted to maintain the original aspect ratio.
Vertical Image -- The height must not exceed 1200 pixels.

NCC Competition Categories

Many photographs may fit into more than one category and it is up to the photographer to choose in which category he/she wishes to compete.

ABSTRACT

The subject matter is secondary. Elements such as line, shape, texture, shadow, color, form and pattern become the primary concern of the photographer.

ANIMALS/PETS

COMMERCIAL

A photograph whose purpose is to sell a product or concept.

CREATIVE

Work in which the normal photographic processes have been exaggerated or manipulated by chemistry or other means for the purpose of creating special effects that are not achieved in the normal photographic process, i.e., hand coloring, excessive color shift negative prints, solarizations, reticulations, posterizations, etc. A photographer may choose to enter the creative work in the category that defines the subject, i.e., portraiture.

DOCUMENTARY

To record without embellishment.

NATURE/WILDLIFE

Nature photography depicts observations from all branches of natural history, except anthropology and archeology, in such a fashion that a well informed person will be able to identify the subject material and to certify as to its honest presentation. The story telling value of a photograph must be weighed more than the pictorial quality. Human elements shall not be present, except on the rare occasion where those human elements enhance the nature story. The presence of scientific bands of wild animals is acceptable. Photographs of artificially produced hybrid plants or animals, mounted specimens, or obviously set arrangements, are ineligible, as is any form of manipulation that alters the truth of the photographic statement. Wildlife is defined as one or more organisms living free and unrestrained in a natural or adopted habitat.

PEOPLE

Entries in the "People" category should feature one or more persons where the lighting and subject matter are not necessarily under the control of the photographer. It is intended to be a less formal category than "Portraiture".

PHOTOJOURNALISM

Depicts a photographic story of an event and its impact, including but not limited to: Hard news, sports, features, personalities, and human interest. The journalistic value of the photograph shall be weighed more than the pictorial quality. In the interest of credibility, photographs which misrepresent the truth, such as manipulation to alter the subject matter, or situations which are set up for the purpose of photography, are unacceptable in Photojournalism competition.

PICTORIAL

The artistic portrayal of scene(s) and/or person(s) expressed through mood, composition and tone.

PORTRAITURE

Any photograph of a person(s) or animal(s) with the lighting and subject matter under the control of the photographer.

STILL LIFE

An object or a group of objects either man-made or natural, found or arranged, and photographed under natural or enhanced lighting.

UNCLASSIFIED

CLUB CHALLENGE

Scoring and placement will be based on how well the photograph expresses the theme of the club challenge while using quality photographic guidelines. There is no distinction between color and monochrome in the club challenge category.

NCC Judging Guidelines

IMPACT

This generally is determined by what the viewer sees first upon looking at a photograph. What creates the viewer's first impression? Does the image create a strong feeling? What holds the viewer's eye? Impact can be created by any of the remaining elements.

CREATIVITY

Does the image spur the viewer's imagination? Is the photographer original and fresh in his approach to the subject? Is the subject matter shown creatively? Abstraction, invention, design, feeling and imagination can lift a photograph into the realm of art.

STYLE

Does the photograph stand out? Does it reveal a different way of seeing? A different way of approaching the subject? Is the approach real rather than contrived? Does it demonstrate individuality?

COMPOSITION

Look for good placement of the main and secondary subjects. Are they successfully arranged? Does it create good rhythm, repetition of color, space, mood, or divisions within the photograph?

PRESENTATION

Does the presentation enhance the photograph? Does cropping add to the composition? Was a good color selected for the matting? Does it dare to be different? Dynamic? Traditional? A viewer's first impression of a photograph can be affected by creative mounting.

BALANCE

The balance between light and dark, highlight and shadow. Also balance of tones or colors that make a photograph alive or boring. Look for coordination of color between the subjects and the subject background.

LIGHTING

Lighting is the art of reproducing the characteristics of subject or object. Look for a statement made with light. Look for dynamic lighting. Do patterns of light enhance the image? Light should create depth and dimension and accentuate the texture of surfaces.

CENTER OF INTEREST

Does one object or subject dominate? Does it hold the viewer's eye with no distraction? Does it create a mood? Secondary points of interest are important to a successfully executed photograph. However, they must not be so strong that they prevent the viewer from returning to the primary point of interest.

SUBJECT MATTER

Does the image give an outstanding interpretation of the subject? Is the camera angle correct for the subject? Is the model or object selected photogenic? Contrasts here can be very creative. (For example, young and old.)

PRINT QUALITY

Look for strong tonal contrast with a good range of middle tones. Look for color balance. Simplest statements often are the strongest.

TECHNIQUE

Does the photographic technique suit the subject? Technique is the foundation of photography. However, application of art of principles is necessary.

STORY TELLING

Does the image make a statement? Does it present a complete story? Can the viewer grasp the image's complete meaning at first glance? Does the image portray a strong emotion or mood in the subject? Does it build an emotional response, challenge the viewer's imagination?
